The Daily Gazetteer.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 10. 1736.

No. 429.

By the last Mail from Holland brought these farther Advices.

THEY write from Petersburg, that since the News the Court has received of the Peace concluded between the Turks and Kouli Kan, the Persian Ambassador there has declar'd to the Czarina's Ministers, 'That his Master 'could not prevail to get 'the Czarina admitted as one of the Contracting Parties to that Treaty: But that however he had taken care, not only that nothing was therein stipulated contrary to the Interests of Russia, but also that the Crown of Russia should preserve the quiet Possession of Daghestan and its neighbouring Provinces. He added, that the Czarina need not be under the least Apprehension that Kouli Kan will be worse than his Engagement, because 'twas his own Interest to keep it, and to prevent the Provinces possess'd by the Russians on the Side of Persia, from ever falling under the Dominion of the Turks; the rather, because such an Alteration might endanger the utter Ruin of the Persians Trade with the Russians: That moreover Kouli Kan was obliged, in Interest, not to suffer Persia to be deprived of a Communication with Russia, because it was of the last Importance to him to be always in a Condition to receive Succours from thence, both for his Defence against Foreign Enemies, and for humbling such of the Persians as refuse to own his Authority.'—They add from Petersburg, that the Hospadar of Wallachia has made an Offer to the Czarina to renounce all Submission to the Porte, and to put himself under the Protection of his Imperial Majesty; 'tis not thought probable his Proposal will be accepted, unless the War continues.

The Bailo or Minister of Venice at Constantinople, has sent an Express to acquaint the Senate, that the Peace between the Turks and Persians, is actually concluded, and that the Treaty was soon to be sign'd in Form. He writes, that among other Articles, it contains these Four: 'I. That the Grand Signior shall acknowledge Thamas Kouli Kan for King and Sophi of Persia, and engage to maintain him on the Throne of that Kingdom, and to support him against such as offer to molest him, or to dispute his Possession of it. II. That the Limits of the two Dominions shall be re-established on the same Footing as they were before the War with Persia, and that both shall conform to what was regulated in this Affair during the Reign of Sultan Amurath I. III. That those who go in Pilgrimage from Persia to visit Mahomet's Tomb at Mecca, shall be exempted from the Duties they have been forced to pay hitherto as Foreigners, and shall be allowed the free Exercise of their Religion at Mecca, under the Direction of four Imans, or Clergymen, who are settled there for the Sect of Omar. IV. That the Prisoners taken on both Sides during the War, shall be restored after the Signing of the Treaty.' It is observ'd, that the Clause in the second Article re-establishing the Confines of the two Dominions as they were in the Reign of Amurath, was put in only to avoid the Term Cession, and as a Salvo to the Honour of the Porte. 'Tis agreed by a separate Article, that under the Term Re-establishing, shall be included the Restitution of all the Conquests made by the Turks in Persia, during the Troubles of that Kingdom. — The Bailo adds in his Letters, that besides these Articles, he has been assured there are several Secret ones which the Porte has sent to Kouli Kan for his Approbation, assuring him withal, that if he should not accept them, the others should stand good. — According to the same Advices, the Reis-Effendi, or Great Chancellor of the Porte, has ordered great Preparations to be made for entertaining the Persian Ambassador at a Feast on the Day that the Treaty of Peace is sign'd. The Ministers of the Porte have given out, that the Grand Signior's Accommodation with Russia will meet with great Difficulties, if that Power persists in its Demand of their Subjects Right to a free Navigation on the Black Sea, and on the River Tanais or Don in Tartary. It is added, that the Grand Signior has the Preservation of the Crim Tartary so much at Heart, that a great Number of Soldiers are sent thither by the Black Sea.

They write from Vienna, that Count Seckendorf is arrived there, and has taken up his Lodging with his Cousin the Baron de Seckendorf, who is the Duke of Saxe Gotha's Minister at that Court.

They assure us from Frankfort, that the Elector Palatine is negociating with the Court of France concerning the Succession to the Dutchies of Juliers and Berg: And from Munich, that two Women have been hang'd there by Order of the Elector of Bavaria, for being concern'd in the Listing of Men there for the Service of a Foreign Power.

They write from Naples, that the Interest of the Military Chest having been reduced from Eight to Four per Cent. his Neapolitan Majesty has ordered a Fund of half a Million, to be set apart out of the said Reduction. — They add, that the Count de L—— is still kept close Prisoner in the Castle del Ovo, and that he has been convicted of a Design to have administer'd a Dose of strong Poyson to the Princess Dowager of Avellino, by the Hands of her Chamber-Maid; so that 'tis commonly believed, he will be put to Death for an Example.

The Reconciliation of the Baron de Neuhoff, with the Leaders of the Parties that had separated from him, is confirm'd with this Addition, that the Te Deum sung upon that Occasion at Sarsenna, in the South Side of Corsica, was accompanied with the Discharge of several Cannon; after which, there was a great Entertainment, where all the Leaders, no less than 12 in Number were present, as well as the principal Officers of the Malecontents Forces.

Never were any Advices or Sentiments so contradictory to each other, as those relating to the Armament at Barcelona, which some affirm to be very considerable, and others deny it; as does, in particular, the following Letter from a good Hand upon the Spot.

SIR,

'AS you desire to be inform'd of the real Truth 'of the Rumour spread in foreign Parts, of 'the extraordinary Armament supposed to be making 'in this Port, 'tis with Pleasure that I can satisfy 'you in this Point. The Troops that were recall'd 'from Oran, to make room for those sent thither to 'relieve them, sailing from Cadiz about the latter 'End of August last, arrived in our Road about the 'Beginning of September, under Convoy of 2 Men 'of War, and stay'd some time on board the Vessels 'that brought them. It being apprehended at 'length that the Soldiers might be sick, it was re-'solved to bring them ashore, and put them into 'Quarters of Refreshment; whereupon most of the 'Transports were discharged, but the Freight of 'some of them was continued. —— So much for 'the Ships. —— As to the Soldiers, I don't deny, 'but the Number of those that are actually now in 'this Principality, is more considerable than it was 'before; but 'tis far from being so great, as to be 'able to make a Body of 24 or 25,000 Men, to be 'put on board all at once, as has been reported in 'foreign Countries. Persons of Credit, who have 'made their Observation, assure me, that there are 'at most, but 10,000 Men in Catalonia, both Horse 'and Foot. I can certify, Sir, from my own Know-'ledge, that the Forces, be their Number what it 'will, continue quiet in their Quarters: And as to 'the Crowd of foreign Ships pretended to be here, 'I can also assure you, as having had Occasion every 'Day to be convinc'd of the Truth of it, that for 'these 2 Months past, I have not seen above 20 'such Ships at one Time in this Road. —— Judge 'then, Sir, by this last Circumstance, whether the 'other Rumours about this pretended Armament, 'are not mere Chimæras. —— For my own Part, 'I think them to be nothing more. —

I am, &c.

Barcelona, Oct. 24. 1736.

Tho' this Letter carries all the Air of Truth, yet Letters of the 16th and 17th of the same Month from Leghorn and Genoa say, that the Masters of Ships arrived there from Barcelona, declare unanimously, that a great Number of Transports is continually arriving at that Port: So that it must be left to Time alone to decide this Paradox.

Dublin, Nov. 2. Yesterday being All-Saints Day, the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs and Common Council of this City, went in State to Christ Church, preceded by his Lordship's Guards, and Band of City Musick: After Divine Service his Lordship walk'd the City Rounds, and then entertain'd the Citizens at Dinner after the most grand Manner. His Lordship invited several of the Nobility and Gentry, with the Rev. Dean Swift, who honoured his Lordship with their Company.

Cork, Oct. 29. We are inform'd, that the unfortunate young Lady who shot herself (and whom we mentioned in one of the former Papers) had some Months ago taken a Dose of Arsenick, but the Effects of the Quality where prevented by the Quantity; for her Stomach being unable to retain as much as she took, discharged it: She was just recovered from a long Illness occasioned by it, when she destroyed herself. The only Reason she gave for the Action was, that her Life was a Burthen to her, and the Height of her Concern, even in the Moment of Death was, that she had not shot herself thro' the Head instead of her Breast: She was in all her Conduct, except the Attempts on her Life, a young Lady of excellent Understanding. The People who pretend most to know her, impute this Violence to disappointed Love.

Rabah the Titular Bishop of Cork, and seven or eight Priests of different Parishes in the Neighbourhood of this City, were last Assizes presented by the Grand Juries of the County and City of Cork. Diligent Search being made for them, it appears they have fled.

LONDON.

We hear that the Infante Don Emanuel of Portugal, after his Arrival at Bayonne, wrote a Letter to the Cardinal de Fleury, wherein he tells him, that being obliged to set out from Lisbon, on account of some Transactions betwixt the King his Brother and him, he resolved to come to France, and therefore desired his most Christian Majesty's Consent for his Stay in that Kingdom, till Affairs permitted him to return to Lisbon. — What Answer the Cardinal sent to him is not known.

There's a Comedy acting at Paris, call'd, the Prodigal Son, which has an extraordinary Run, and M. de Voltaire, is suppos'd to be the Author of it; yet, we hear, this Gentleman disclaims it, and has wrote a very modest Letter to that End, which he desires may be made publick to take off the Imputation.

An Infallible REMEDY

For BROKEN-WINDED HORSES,

WHich has been published and sold many Years before any Counterfeits in other Forms appeared; and highly commended from one Hand to another. The vast Quantities that have been sold also verify the Truth of its Efficacy and Virtues, which perfectly cures them, after many things premised have been ineffectual, to a Wonder, in a small time, without Confinement; by attenuating and opening the Globules of the Lungs dried up, and all the Passages obstructed by Humours dripping thereon, occasion'd by hard Riding, Colds, &c. causes presently a free Perspiration, renewing its Force, Vigour and Length again, as well as ever.

It immediately cures those Horses only a little troubled in their Wind, as also all continued Coughs, Colds, Wheezings, &c. being excellent in preventing many other Diseases incident unto them, by maintaining, preserving, and continuing a good Breath.

And in a word, by this very Medicine alone, many Horses have been made so perfectly sound, that they have been sold and valued at 10 and 12 l. which by being Broken-winded could not before be sold for 3 or 4 l.
